The queen of Italian thriller keeps us on edge with this tale. Unpredictable from beginning to end, she has us wonder, how many women will have to die yet, crushed under the weight of broken promises? Then Ilaria Boria will present Le formiche cantano sotto la neve, her debut novel, a psychological thriller focused on the dangerous violence against women, the invisible and pervasive one of sexism and abuse. A reflection accompanied by the desire for redemption. - Reservation required: www.estatecanturina.it/evento/giorni-destate-incontro-con-elisabetta-cametti-e-ilaria-boria/ (+39) 031717445

CANTÙ (CO) - July 24th - Cinema - UN AFFARE DI FAMIGLIA (SHOPLIFTERS) - Via S. Giuseppe, 9 - 9:30 PM - Free - In a humble apartment lives a small community of people, which seems united by kinship ties. One day Osamu finds a little girl on the street, who seems to have been abandoned, and decides to take her home. This may look like a well-established, predictable sort of plot, but Shoplifters actually deals with social themes in a different way, like director Hirokazu Kore-eda hadn't done since Nobody Knows (2004). - Reservation required:
